<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Jennifer is good at redirecting patient management questions to her learners and making them more involved with the clinical decision-making process. - Jennifer establishes very nice rapport with both her team and her patients. She sets the groundwork to have unthreatening open discussion with her learners. - Jennifer always seems very patient and allows the residents and med students to present uninterrupted. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Possibly need to be more mindful of the time being spent in each patient room. - Formal introductions of the team not done with each patient encounter.
